B.C. Lumber Is Gaining Ground In Export Trade

Readjustment Period, Despite Lowered Volume, Shows Marked Advantage Won by Province in British Countries—Era of Great Prosperity on Return of Normal Times Predicted

ANALYSIS of eight months' business in the offshore lumber trade from the Northern Pacific places British Columbia in the van in increased percentage of trade with British countries, and in the achievement of a solid position which will bring tremendous development when world trade conditions return to normal, it was revealed yesterday by Hon. N. S. Lougheed, chairman of the market extension committee of the Cabinet.

Significant facts in the analysis show movement of 62,233,000 board feet to the United Kingdom for the first eight months of this year, with a good prospect of this reaching 100,000,000 board feet before the year's end. In the same period, 85,000,000 board feet were shipped to Australia, compared to 29,000,000 for the whole of 1928, and 83,000,000 for the whole of 1929. British Columbia shipped 88 per cent of New Zealand orders from the North Pacific, though purchasing was much curtailed. In Japan the British Columbia product is holding its own. In South Africa decided sentiment is turning to British preference.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT
Admitting greatly lowered purchasing volume, due to world conditions, the relative gains made by British Columbia mills, particularly in business with British countries, are causing the liveliest satisfaction, and if the percentage of offshore business now won can be consolidated and maintained, these developments will spell an era of prosperity for British Columbia industry on return to normal times that will far eclipse former success in these fields.

SILVER GAINS NEW PRESTIGE

Says European Countries Now Realizing Importance of White Metal

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP).—Simon N. Puggenheimer, president of the American Silver Refining Company, on his return from Europe, said that of all metals silver appeared destined at the moment for the greatest future.

"As a direct result of the economic disturbances all over the world and the suspension of the gold standard in most European countries," he said, "I believe that it will come into its own. It is necessary, and most countries, including Great Britain, are beginning to realize its importance as a store of value. A conference called by leading experts of silver and a plan should be developed whereby silver metal could replace some of its former prestige."

SURPLUS FOR DIVIDENDS
He said surplus built in good years should be used for dividends. "I have always advocated this policy and believe that American smelting will continue to maintain it now. Our earnings, of course, have been affected by the depressed state of conditions in the non-ferrous industry, but taking into account the depth of the depression, the company has not done so badly and has continued to get its share of the business."

"Any improvement in the copper industry will now depend on a general improvement of world conditions, and as yet this is not in sight."

CHANCELLOR AT QUAKER MEETING

Lord Stanley Accompanies Gandhi in Silent Prayer and Speechless Service

LONDON, Sept. 30 (CP).—Mahatma Gandhi, Hindu Nationalist leader, and Lord Stanley, Lord High Chancellor, who is presiding over the Indian round-table conference committee meetings, went to a Quaker prayer meeting tonight and sat side by side for half an hour, while nobody spoke a word. At the end of the period the assembly, still silent, arose from the seats and dispersed.

The Mahatma then went to a hotel to meet His Highness the Aga Khan, spiritual leader of the Moslem world, for a further attempt at a rapprochement between Moslems and Hindus. Earlier in the day both Gandhi and the Aga Khan had separate conversations with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald.

GOVERNOR CANCELS NOVA SCOTIA VISIT

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 30 (CP).—His Excellency the Earl of Beaulieu, Governor-General of Canada, tonight telegraphed Premier Harrington, of Nova Scotia, that he would cancel his visit to Nova Scotia on account of the death of Hon. Frank Stanfield, the Lieutenant-Governor. His Excellency may also cancel his proposed tour to Prince Edward Island, confining his present visit to the Maritimes to a trip to various New Brunswick cities and towns.

Canada Will Meet Honor Obligations Declares Premier

TORONTO, Sept. 30 (CP).—"Canada will honor her obligations in accordance with the terms of the borrowing contracts," this was the emphatic comment tonight of Premier R. B. Bennett, in referring to the financial situation. There was no other statement to make, the Prime Minister added.

FIRE CLAIMS THREE LIVES

Blind Mother and Two Daughters Burn to Death at Kingston

KINGSTON, Ont., Sept. 30 (CP).—Wandering back into a flaming room from the window where she had been taken by her husband, Mrs. John McNicholas, who had been blind for years, with her two small daughters, burned to death this morning at their home at Glendower, about thirty miles north of Kingston, despite the frantic attempts of her husband to save her. The fire, which destroyed the house, was one of the most disastrous in the history of the little village.

AWAKENED BY HEAT

Mr. McNicholas had been sleeping downstairs and his wife and two daughters, Mary, aged eight, and Margaret, aged six, and four sons, were sleeping upstairs. During the night Mr. McNicholas was awakened by the intense heat and by the crackling of fire. Mr. McNicholas lost no time in getting to where his wife was sleeping, and after rousing her got her to a window.

On the window was a screen, and while the husband was struggling to smash it out his blind wife wandered back into the midst of the flames, apparently making an effort to reach where she thought the little girls were. In the meantime the boys had jumped from the window to safety.

EFFORTS ARE FUTILE

McNicholas made desperate efforts to get back into the room where he thought his wife had gone, but the flames were fast devouring everything in sight, and he was driven from the house by the fire.

Mother in Rumble Seat Elopers Too

GLOUCESTER, N.J., Sept. 30.—Modern mothers and their children, or a thing or two in these hectic days. For instance, if daughter elopes, denying the parental blessing is old-fashioned. The smart thing nowadays is to elope with her.

That's what happened today when Mary Brennan, sixteen, suddenly decided to marry John Tarada, twenty-one. Caroline Brennan, fifty-one-year-old widow and mother of Mary, pinned on her Eugene hat, grasped the hand of Henry Hoover, sixty-one, her neighbor, and eloped too.

Millions of Feet Of Lumber Burnt

POSSMILLS, Ont., Sept. 30 (CP).—Sweeping the yard of the Fauquier Lumber Company mill here tonight, fire consumed 10,000,000 feet of lumber and did damage estimated at $400,000.

Fed as they were by the ready fuel, the flames menaced the entire town, and only a change of wind held the loss down to its ultimate proportions.

Two houses owned by the lumber company were razed and another score were badly damaged.

SIR WILLIAM ORPEN CALLED BY DEATH

LONDON, Sept. 30 (AP).—Sir William Orpen, noted British painter, died here today after a long illness.

Sir William was president of the International Society of Sculptors, Painters and Engravers for the past ten years, and he was a member of the Academy of Arts and Letters of the United States. He was fifty-three years old.

WILL MOVE TO WASHINGTON

OTTAWA, Sept. 30.—Hon. W. D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington, and Mrs. Herridge will leave for the United States capital tomorrow to take up permanent residence there.

NATION IS UNCERTAIN OF ACTION

Premier Announces Adjournment of Session to Be Next Week

NO INDICATION OF DISSOLUTION DATE

LONDON, Sept. 30 (CP).—The general election still wavers in the balance. Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's cryptic reply in the House of Commons this afternoon gave the political prophets new material. He announced the House would adjourn one week from today, but he did not say anything about dissolution and an election.

Most members of the House regard dissolution as almost inevitable. They hold the movement for an election has gone too far to be stemmed. The common impression is that adjournment of Parliament on October 7 will be followed by a proclamation of dissolution. But the Government has not yet reached a final decision, it is intimated.

HAD ARGUMENT

From his Surrey home Rt. Hon. David Lloyd George, veteran Liberal leader, is showing his hand. Today Sir Herbert Samuel, acting Liberal leader, had a long conference with him at Churt and rumors were current of sharp differences of opinion. Efforts in the last few days have been directed toward discovery of a formula on tariffs which will satisfy both the Conservative and the official Liberal wings of the National Government. The Liberals are willing to accept emergency tariffs if, after investigation, they were proved necessary to restore trade prosperity. But a preliminary investigation they regard as essential.

OPPOSES ELECTION

Now Lloyd George, it is stated in general circles, takes the further ground that the Liberal agreement to emergency tariffs is contingent on there being no election. If Sir Herbert Samuel agrees with his Conservative cabinet colleagues to an election, the Liberals may split.

Unemployed demonstrators continued today—four runners of a turbulent political campaigner. The National Government's Economy Bill, going its speedy way over the legislative hurdles, received the Royal assent tonight, after getting third reading in the House of Lords. The measure enables the Government to make cuts in national expenditures by means of order-in-council.

All the Government's emergency legislation, including a bill to deal with the coal problem, announced today, will be completely before the House adjourns a week hence.

Miners Vote to Return to Work

SYDNEY, N.S., Sept. 30 (CP).—Members of the Finance Local of the United Mine Workers of America, who have been on strike for the past ten days, voted this evening, 184 to 87, in favor of returning to work. The work which they are to do is to be decided at the colliery tonight, and it is likely that coal will be hoisted tomorrow.

VICTORIA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TAKES AGGRESSIVE ACTION TO BRING BENEFITS OF HOME PURCHASING TO ATTENTION OF PUBLIC

APPROXIMATELY 5,000 women enrolled in Women's Institutes throughout British Columbia will be enlisted in the cause of developing home markets for British Columbia and other Canadian goods. Acting in co-operation with the Department of Agriculture, the Canadian products group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce yesterday initiated a contest open to the members of 151 British Columbia institutes as part of an aggressive drive being maintained by the Victoria group.

NO REPORT FROM KINGSFORD-SMITH

Australian Airman Unreported at Athens or Rome on Way to England

LONDON, Oct. 1 (CP).—Crowds waited vainly at the Athens and Rome airports yesterday for the return of the missing Australian airman, Kingsford-Smith, who had departed from Aleppo on route to London. The world has now been twenty-four hours without news of the noted airman since his disappearance.

In order to beat Mollison's record of a day from Australia, Kingsford-Smith must reach London today. It is therefore possible he may have taken a direct line from Aleppo and landed in some out-of-the-way spot. The machine carries only sufficient fuel for 1,600 miles flying.

Everything is ready at Heston airfield so the aeroplane may be overhauled immediately. Kingsford-Smith arrives, and he would be able to start his return flight within thirty-six hours.

Strike Leaders Leave District After Battle On Streets of Estevan

FIVE CITIZEN PASSES AWAY

Leonard Tait Played Important Role in Development of Victoria

In the death of Leonard Tait, aged seventy-eight, at the Jubilee Hospital last night, Victoria lost one of its most enthusiastic sportsmen, an able educator, an expert stockman and a sturdy Canadian, who had taken an active part in the development of Victoria since the nineties.

Mr. Tait died after a short illness, which necessitated an operation of a major character. Following the operation his vitality became lower and he never seemed to rally.

Born near Hamilton, Ontario, on June 6, 1853, Mr. Tait graduated from the teachers' college there and took up teaching as a profession.

MANAGED STOCK RANCH

He left his native province in 1889 and came direct to the Coast. Later he was appointed principal of the Summer, Wash., school, a position he held for but a short period when he relinquished to become manager of a stock ranch in the same state.

In the Spring of 1893 he came to Victoria and for a short period was connected with the firm of Brackman & Ker Milling Company. He joined the staff of the Victoria High School when the classes occupied what is now known as the Girls' Central School. Later he was appointed principal of the Victoria West School and became principal of the North Ward and Lamson Street Schools successively.

TOOK PRIDE IN HORSES

After relinquishing his post at the North Ward School he found much enjoyment in the management of the Victoria Transfer Company, which then possessed a fine stable of horses, in which Mr. Tait took great pride. He did much to foster the harness races at the Willows track and was often a contestant himself.

Awarded $50,000 By Privy Council

TORONTO, Sept. 30 (CP).—Charles E. Campbell, Edmonton newspaper publisher, can finally collect $50,000 to which he was found entitled by the Privy Council, after years of litigation. The appeal of the National Trust Co., acting as the executor of the late E. A. Wallberg, of Montreal, against whom Campbell sought judgment, was dismissed, dismissing a previous appeal against the writ of execution under which Mr. Campbell sought to obtain the money awarded, was dismissed at Osgoode Hall today by the court presided over by Chief Justice Mulock.

Canada to Impose Import Charge on British Goods—Exchange Basis

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP).—The Government today advanced another stage in its effort to stimulate Canadian and British manufacturers when it decreed by order-in-council that the dumping duty would be applied to imports from Great Britain and thus eliminated the discount on British currency in this country. Today's order supplements that of yesterday, stating that the duty on imports from Great Britain would be calculated on the basis of the par value of the pound.

A high authority illustrated this tonight in the following example: If a shipment of goods is received in Canada valued at $100 its invoice value in Canadian currency would be, on the basis of today's exchange, approximately $435.00.

The agitation for separation of the Riverina district from the rest of the State of New South Wales began months ago as a result of the dissatisfaction of the Riverina residents with the policies of Premier J. T. Lang of the state. They consider him an extremist, and the movement received its greatest impetus earlier in the year when the state defaulted interest payments on overseas debts.

Detestives Make Poor Shooting at Fleeing Bandits

VANCOUVER, Sept. 30 (CP).—Seven shots were fired at two crackmen by city detectives as they made their escape after entering a service station at Third Avenue and Main Street shortly after 9 o'clock tonight. Notified by a resident of the district that men were seen in the station, three officers rushed to the scene.

On their approach one man fled down the lane and in pursuit Detective Spence fired five shots, but the man disappeared in the traffic on Main Street.

Another man, who jumped out of a window into the lane, was fired at twice by Detective Duggan, as he fled. He also escaped in the Main Street traffic.

Earl Jellicoe Must Cancel Engagements

LONDON, Sept. 30 (CP).—Some improvement is shown in the condition of Admiral of the Fleet Earl Jellicoe. He was taken ill by the recent return from Canada, where he presided over the conference of the British Empire Service League, but his doctors have requested him to cancel all engagements for at least two months.

Doing Well in Cariboo Gold Field

VANCOUVER, Sept. 30.—Between three and four hundred placer gold miners are working in the likely district of the British Columbia Cariboo, according to Captain N. Evans-Atkinson, Manitoba placer hunter, who has just returned from there. The majority have done well this season, he said.

Given a knowledge of how to take care of themselves in the bush and a season's supply of food, there was no reason why many men could not make good in the Cariboo, Captain Evans-Atkinson said. The ideal way to go in with a truck and supplies, and a knowledge of how to prospect. There is plenty of gold in the Cariboo, he said, and saw the possibility of a rush.

DUMPING DUTY TO BE APPLIED

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP).—The Government today advanced another stage in its effort to stimulate Canadian and British manufacturers when it decreed by order-in-council that the dumping duty would be applied to imports from Great Britain and thus eliminated the discount on British currency in this country. Today's order supplements that of yesterday, stating that the duty on imports from Great Britain would be calculated on the basis of the par value of the pound.

SEPARATE STATE PLAN IS OPPOSED

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP).—The agitation for separation of the Riverina district from the rest of the State of New South Wales began months ago as a result of the dissatisfaction of the Riverina residents with the policies of Premier J. T. Lang of the state. They consider him an extremist, and the movement received its greatest impetus earlier in the year when the state defaulted interest payments on overseas debts.

SEE EBB TIDE OF GOLD FROM U.S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP).—An ebb tide in the steady stream of gold flowing from domestic mines to well-lit United States coffers in the next decade is expected by scientists.

Troubles of Great Britain, Sweden and Norway and other gold standard nations have revived discussion here among geologists and mineralogists of this country's future raw gold supply.

All held to the theory future discoveries would be negligible, while existing fields slowly would be exhausted. They predicted the United States will relinquish second place in world production ranking to Canada by 1933 and drop from a valued output of $42,800,000 in 1930 to $36,100,000 in 1940.

BATTLE WAGES WHILE PEACE IS DISCUSSED

Severe Fighting Near Mukden Between Chinese and Japanese Is Reported

DIRECT SETTLEMENT EXPECTED AT TOKIO

TOKIO, Oct. 1 (AP).—The Rengo News Agency reports that a detachment of Japanese soldiers clashed with 3,000 Chinese troops at Kaiyuan, near Mukden, early today, resulting in severe fighting. Three Japanese were reported killed and many wounded in repulsing the Chinese.

RETURNS TO REPORT

Mr. Chi, who was presumably dispatched by the Nanking Government, also conferred with Tsuboyashi Inukai, president of the Rikyoku opposition party, and also with Mitsuru Toyama, so-called Robin Hood of Japan, who is the reactionary leader. Mr. Chi departed today for Nanking to report to the Chinese Government.

The Tokyo Foreign Office apparently is encouraged as a result of the interview with Baron Shidehara, feeling this to be the first step toward direct negotiations.

The Foreign Office announced that only 20,000 Manchurian soldiers were destroyed by the Japanese of a total participating in previous hostilities of about 220,000, wherefore the apprehension that many bands of leaderless and unpaid soldiers are burning to banditry.

PRISON BREAK IS FRUSTRATED

Files and Hacksaws Discovered on Trail Near Oakalla—Youths Arrested

EDMONTON, B.C., Sept. 30.—Violations of an Oakalla farm prison break, in which an automatic gun, files, hacksaws and supplies of ammonia were to have played a role, were conjured up in the minds of spectators in Burnaby police court today.

Two young men, Robert Harwood Patterson and R. H. Utley, both of Vancouver, were charged by Burnaby police with vagrancy and with having failed to give a satisfactory account of themselves.

WEAPONS FOUND

They were arrested on September 22 in the vicinity of Oakalla prison farm, where, two days earlier, an automatic 32 pistol, three files, hacksaws and a tin of ammonia were to have played a role. They were discovered by a son of one of the prison guards in an old hollow log lying in a trail near the prison fence.

Patterson was remanded in custody till Saturday, and Utley was held guilty on the vagrancy charge. He was sentenced to the week he had spent in jail. On release of Vancouver city police he was held in custody and later was arrested by city detectives and charged with participating in the attempted hold-up of the Bank of Montreal branch at Cambie and Sixteenth Avenue on September 19.

TRAFFIC TALK
IS CONTINUEDChief of Police Deals With
Hand Signals and Cyclists' Equipment

The proper signals to give when changing the direction in which an automobile is proceeding and the equipment that must be carried on motorcycles and bicycles was the topic of the third of a series of talks on traffic regulations given by Chief of Police Thomas Healey last night in his campaign for safe and sane driving on Victoria streets.

"Before dealing with hand signals, I feel that I should explain briefly the equipment required by law on motorcycles and bicycles when traveling on our streets," the chief said.

CYCLE EQUIPMENT

"A motorcycle must have a licence plate at the rear, plainly visible at all times, and kept clean. It must also have a reflector or red light mounted in the rear and a headlight on the front, which must be lighted one-half hour before sunset and kept alight until one-half hour before sunrise. Please remember to keep your brakes in perfect order, and also remember that your provincial driver's licence must be in your possession when you are riding your motorcycle.

"Cyclists," the chief said, "have caused the department considerable annoyance by failing to carry a fixed bicycle lamp placed on the front and kept burning continually, as required. In many instances they have also been without the red disc on the rear mudguard. Understand, an electric torch carried in your hand and switched on only when you notice a police officer, will not be tolerated. Your brakes must be in perfect order. Furthermore, all bicyclists should keep both hands on the handlebars except when giving the signal to turn." Chief Healey said.

THE HAND SIGNALS

"On numerous occasions when motorists have called at the police station to report a motor accident, they have complained of the other fellow failing to use the hand signals, and thereby causing a collision. Of course, to blame the other fellow is quite easy, but sometimes after making investigation, I have found that neither motorist in the collision has used good judgment. In fact, their driving sense has not been with them.

"It is absolutely essential that the hand signals be strictly adhered to by motorists and cyclists, and that signals must be given at least thirty feet before reaching the intersection and not on the intersection. The words 'I forgot,' 'not taken as an excuse for not giving these signals; for no driver or rider has any right to have his mind on any other matter except when he is actively engaged in.' Chief Healey said.

THE CORRECT WAY

"These signals must be made from the left hand side of the car, motorcycle or bicycle in a correct, and not slovenly, manner. In a car, the window at the driver's left must be kept open to enable him to use the signal correctly. There are a number of automatic hand signals which have been approved by the British Columbia Government, a list of which can be obtained in the regulations pursuant to the Motor Vehicle Act.

Chief Healey tomorrow will deal with some other phase of traffic regulations.

ANTHRACITE COAL
WILL BE EXEMPT

Not Subject to Dumping Duty
Being of Class Not Produced in Canada

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP).—Anthracite coal imported into Canada will not be subject to the dumping duty provided in the Customs Act. The dumping clause of the act is only applicable in the case of "a class or kind made or produced in Canada." A bulletin sent out to customs officers from the Department of National Revenue states that anthracite coal is ruled to be not of a class or kind produced in Canada. It is therefore exempt from the dumping provisions of the Customs Act.

Section 6 of the Customs Act is the dumping clause which provides for the imposition of a special or dumping duty when it is determined that goods are being imported into Canada at less than their fair market value for home consumption in the country of export. It makes provision for the collection of a duty equal to the difference between the selling price of the article for export and the fair market value of the goods for home consumption. The duty is collectable even though the articles may not be otherwise dutiable.

Saanich Building
Figures Record
Great Increase

AN increase of $34,558 is shown in the Saanich building figures for the first nine months of this year, as compared with the corresponding period of 1930.

According to figures made public yesterday at Royal Oak, this year's value of construction amounts to $339,699, as against $305,141 for the nine months of last year.

The September figures are $73,445, as against $37,353 for the same month of 1930. Included in last month's permits were twenty-one new homes and the Carey Road High School. These figures explain the almost 100 per cent increase in September building figures.

SURCHARGE
NOW FIXED

Commissioners Fix Standard Rate for Freight and Passenger Business

OTTAWA, Sept. 30 (CP).—The Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada today set a surcharge rate of 10 per cent on international freight shipments and 16 per cent on passenger business. This rate will apply for the first two weeks in October. Due to the fluctuations of the Canadian dollar and its influence on international freight and passenger business, the board set a standard rate of 16 per cent premium for New York funds.

Reverting to the practice initiated in 1921, when the Canadian dollar fluctuated for many weeks, the board fixed the standard surcharge for freight business at 60 per cent of the pegged exchange rate. This effect will be that, irrespective of the Canadian dollar in New York, Canadian buyers of United States goods will pay 10 per cent surcharge in addition to the freight charges. The value of the goods will not enter into the transaction.

WILL BE DIVIDED

The fixed surcharge, after being collected by the Canadian railway, will be divided with the United States carrier on a prearranged basis, mileage being one of the main factors.

The passenger surcharge will be based on the full pegged exchange rate of 16 per cent when a ticket for a United States point is purchased at a border point, the full rate of 16 per cent will be charged. Under the board's order, a sliding scale will be operative under which the distance in Canada from the border line will determine the percentage of the surcharge.

PSYCHOLOGIST WILL GIVE LECTURE HERE

Dr. W. G. Alexander, who gives a practical application of character analysis and applied psychology, will open a series of lectures at the Chamber of Commerce, Monday, October 5.

As he has arranged a most attractive and interesting programme of talks, Dr. Alexander's lectures are a world-famous character analyst and vocational expert will, no doubt, draw large audiences nightly.

Describing the series, said recently, "Dr. Alexander's lectures are an inspiration and an education."

That Body of Yours
By James W. Barton, M.D.

THE PHYSICIAN TRIES TO ASSIST NATURE

Some years ago a druggist or chemist invented a machine from which, by inserting a coin, one might get a bottle of medicine for any ailment with which he was afflicted.

You can understand that the principle behind it was not very sensible because it took for granted that the patient knew exactly his ailment.

As a matter of fact half the patients who go to see a doctor are not really sick in the sense that they have a real illness. The physician discovers this by asking questions and making a thorough examination. However, the patient before he undergoes this examination he is really ill. He is really ill because he is not sure what a terrible mistake it would be for a patient to think or imagine he had a certain ailment and then go and place a coin in the machine and get medicine for that ailment. It would cause harm to mind and body.

In fact, medicine is only meant to help nature do her work more readily; it is not meant that it should interfere with nature's work.

If there is something irritating the large intestine causing diarrhoea, the first thought should be bismuth or opium to stop the diarrhoea, but castor oil or other purgative to help nature to get rid of the irritating substance. If after using castor oil the diarrhoea continues and becomes so severe as to endanger life, then bismuth or opium may be used.

Similarly with a rise in temperature. When a temperature rises it is because nature is fighting off some ailment, and heat is the result. It is not heat in itself, but immediately taking some medicine, the temperature is simply interfering with nature's efforts to fight off the invading ailment. If the temperature gets to the danger point, then a drug to keep the temperature within safe bounds is used by the physician.

In other words, your physician nowadays is not trying to cure you of a disease, but trying to help nature bring about a natural recovery. This means that he is looking for you to bring about a recovery by your own body processes, and only gives you medicine when he sees just how, when and where he can assist nature.

OUTLOOK FOR
LUMBER GOODAt Least Three Million Feet
Will Be Loaded Here
This Month

Prospects for the movement of lumber in considerable quantities from this port look better for October than for many months past. The freighter S. San Diego arrived at Ogden Point Piers yesterday and is lifting 300,000 feet of lumber for California ports. Captain Patrick McOlsen, the well-known Irish skipper, is her commander. Due on October 5, the Okagisan Maru will load 600,000 feet of the product for Japan. On October 8, the Tolken will be here for 400,000 feet, which will go to Australia. Two days later, October 10, the Golden Coast is due from Sydney to load 500,000 feet for the same port.

About the same date the West Caseta, due here on October 5 to discharge corn, will return for lumber cargo after completing unloading on the Mainland; and near the latter part of the month the Golden Eagle will arrive to load another half million feet for "down under." These ships are all being handled by King Brothers, local shipping agents, the total cargo amounting to approximately 3,000,000 feet of lumber.

At noon yesterday the Danish freighter India completed loading 500,000 feet of lumber at Ogden Point for transport to the United Kingdom. The India arrived from Esplanade, and was handled by McTavish Brothers, shipping agents, of Victoria.

FAULTY PLAINT
CANCELS APPEAL

Judge F. S. Lampman Declares Action Out of Order on Grounds No Jurisdiction Shown

Ruling that the appeal was not in order because the appellants failed to show jurisdiction on the face of the proceedings required under the provisions of the Children of Unmarried Parents Act, Judge F. S. Lampman declined to hear an appeal in the County Court yesterday.

An appeal from an affiliation order granted by Police Magistrate George Jay, in the city police court on June 26, 1931, was entered by D. B. Tait, on behalf of the appellants, C. L. Harrison being counsel for the respondent. Mr. Tait was successful, in part, in proving notice of service, but Mr. Harrison argued that the question of jurisdiction had not been definitely established in the proceedings. After fully an hour of argument, Judge Lampman agreed with Mr. Harrison that jurisdiction in the appeal had not been established.

He pointed out that if the jurisdiction is not shown on the face of the pleadings, the whole proceedings are annulled. The jurisdiction of the court granting the affiliation order is not shown in the notice of appeal. It is a question of reference to the whole of the proceedings, and I very much doubt, I don't think you can do that. Therefore, the appeal is out of order," declared Judge Lampman.

Lawyers agree that the point raised by Mr. Harrison was a very nice one in all legal respects and one that is most likely to be overlooked in ordinary court practice. It is pointed out that the question of jurisdiction for the hearing of an appeal differs in the Children of Unmarried Parents Act from the jurisdiction of appeal under the Summary Convictions Act.

Just Roamin' Around

By TWO ROVERS

Sometime after we and the train left Shawnigan Lake, where "rovering" must be ideal, and we two rovers intended to try it some day. I called Rover to my side. I explained, in a whisper and in a language he and I use when we do not want others nearby to understand, that the man to whom I had tried to impart a lesson on cheerfulness bored me to death, and that I was anxious to know how things had fared with the widow.

Here Rover just tumbled over himself to enlighten me, and at the same time to lighten his burden of pure gossip.

"She's a bit of all right, Master; but the daughter is a scream! You remember how the men at Shawnigan Lake Station, where the two women embarked, stood, and admiration for the widow simply gleamed from their worshipping eyes? Well, the very reverse took place when they spied the daughter."

"The daughter is 'it.' Not the 'it' you may be thinking of—a peach, or pearl, or stunning, ravishing, youthful beauty. Oh, no! Daughter is as angular as all over as her mother is cooly round. She's as plain and plane-like as the mother is pretty and comely and comfy. She's as jerky in her movements as her mother is graceful and dignified; and while her maternal companion

VICTORIA'S CONSERVATIVES

The annual meeting of the Victoria Conservative Association is being held this evening at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium. While the main purpose of the meeting is the election of officers for the ensuing year the gathering will be honored by the presence of the Premier, Dr. S. F. Tolmie, the city Members of the Legislature and Mr. D. B. Plunkett, the Member for this constituency at Ottawa, who will give an account of their attitude affecting various policies that have cropped up during the past year. The occasion is one which should draw a large attendance for the reason that these are regarded in many quarters as critical times through which the country is passing.

Both Dr. Tolmie and Mr. Plunkett, as well as the Provincial Members for Victoria, will have many matters to discuss of a character that should be of vital interest to all adherents of the Conservative Party, no matter what their station in life. The present is a time when there should be sanity in the attitude on the course of politics. There is too much hysteria and disruptive thought, and too little well ordered mentality in the outlook. The balanced mind in politics is the best assurance that the issues of the time will be confronted with the greatest courage and backbone and their solutions found. The Conservative Party, here as elsewhere, has heavy responsibilities. These it can best discharge by knowledge of unity of purpose, adhesion to principle and co-operation within the ranks of its supporters.

The hope may well be expressed that tonight's meeting will afford an illustration of the desire of all Conservatives to uphold the hands of the Federal and Provincial Governments in the tasks on which they are now engaged. They are delicate tasks arising out of conditions that are world-wide. Constituted authority is doing its utmost to grapple with a difficult situation. Its strength applied towards the achievement of this purpose can be added to immensely by the co-operation of the people as a whole. The Conservatives in this province can show their attitude towards co-operation by rallying to the support of their elected representatives on such occasions as tonight's gathering.

MR. LEONARD TAIT

One with a deep sense of interest in public affairs, a citizen of rectitude and a sportsman who maintained his interest in the country's games to the end has passed away in the death of Mr. Leonard Tait. He had been a resident of Victoria for some forty years, engaged in many of the activities of this city, and, in the roll of our citizens during four decades, there have not been many better known or more highly esteemed than he was. He played many parts in a lifetime crowded with endeavor, and in all he won the confidence of those with whom he came in contact. He was perhaps best known during the long years in which he was a school principal in the city, a post for which he was admirably fitted. There are many of our citizens today who owe much of their education and their character development to the late Mr. Tait's influence.

Mr. Tait always took the liveliest interest in politics, both Federal and Provincial, and also in world affairs. He was a keen and active participant in many election fights, a prominent member of the local Conservative Association, and, whenever a campaign was in the offing, he was ever ready to doff his coat and go into the fight. In the platform battles he always fought fairly, and always well, on behalf of the party espoused. He had a deep fund of information on the politics of the country and kept constantly informing himself of developments so that he could keep abreast of the times. His interest, indeed, never flagged, and it was always directed towards upholding those policies which he believed, with all sincerity, were for the good of his country.

As a sportsman Mr. Tait won a place of high regard in the hearts of his fellow citizens. He was an ardent enthusiast about several forms of sport, perhaps particularly lacrosse, which he always regarded as the country's national game, and which he sought to foster by every means in his power. It had been a matter of deep regret to him in latter years that the same had lost its popularity in this city, and again and again, year after year, he sought to restore it to its one-time position of prominence. He was, as well, a strong supporter of ice hockey, and, indeed, there were few games of which he was not a devotee, as is always the case with the true sportsman.

He had a most likeable personality and characteristics which commended themselves to all his friends. The circle of his friendship, even in later years, was of an ever-expanding variety. He was esteemed for his sincerity, for his sterling outlook on men and events, for the kindness of his disposition and for the obvious enthusiasm and earnestness which he brought to bear on every subject in which he took an interest. He will be long remembered by all our citizens who knew him, and the deepest sympathy will go out on every side to the sons and daughters of the family who survive.

FRANCO-GERMAN ECONOMICS

France, within little more than a year, has trebled its holdings of gold. The greater part has been lying idle in the vaults of the Bank of France because no possibility of safe investment has arisen. In other words, France has been waiting for a return of general confidence and stability. France a few weeks ago commenced to play a more important part than she has ever played before in the financial world. She was able to make a loan of $40,000,000 to the British Government. This France, very legitimately, regarded as a triumph for the thrift and financial caution of her people. It was indeed a triumph for the French people that in a time of emergency they were able to become the prop of British credit.

Having assisted Britain, France has now turned her attention in the direction of Germany. Premier Laval and M. Briand, the Foreign Minister, has just concluded a visit to Berlin, the outcome of which is an economic rapprochement between the two countries, whereby it is obvious that France is going to find a field of investment for her surplus funds. An economic commission, as between the two countries, has been created. Its purpose is to assist, by international collaboration, in overcoming the present economic depression. Presumably the French Premier has informed Germany that France is willing to lend that country money on the assurance that Germany will settle into peaceful ways.

The financial power of France has already solved that disturbing factor in European politics of a Customs Union between Germany and Austria. Now there is a scheme afoot for the co-operation of French capital in German industry. The results are likely to be far reaching. From the German official viewpoint the movement, as it develops, may conceivably put an end to the growing influence of the Nazis. It would not suit France for the Nazis to secure power in the Reichstag. Thus the economic rapprochement with Germany has a political purpose as well. The outcome of recent events is that France's position in the hegemony of European Powers has been immensely strengthened within a few weeks.

THE BALANCE OF ECONOMICS

There is nothing new, nothing sensational; in fact, nothing that is not centuries old in many of the economic problems which confront the world from time to time. The present depression, and for causes somewhat similar, has been reproduced in past ages, and the remedies now proposed have little semblance of either novelty or any new vision. Back in 1696 one, John Carey, writing to the philosopher, Locke, said: "He that designs to propose methods to keep our money at home must first consider what it is that causes it to be carried abroad. It is the balance of our trade with foreign countries, not the balance of the standard of our coin, which either increases or lessens our bullion at home; and then the next thing is to consider how this balance may be brought to our side. When other nations are brought into our debts no room is left for fetching away our bullion, but, on the contrary, they must send us theirs; and this, I judge, cannot better be done than by encouraging our manufacturers which will employ our people."

The proponents of pacifism do not always base their arguments on the experience of history. They claim that as the world becomes more educated (in secular education) the thought of war will depart from the heart of mankind. This conception is not a new one, but it has not been wholly justified by the course of events. In 1828 Lord Brougham summed up his estimate of the trend of that time by saying that "the schoolmaster is abroad, and I trust him, armed with his primer, against the soldier in full military array." Unfortunately, there have been a few wars, and some of major importance, since 1828.

Three tiny villages in Dorsetshire—Trent, Adber and Hummer—with less than 400 inhabitants in poor circumstances, have contributed through a house-to-house shilling collection a sum of five guineas for "love of country" towards a fund to reduce the national debt of Britain. They sent their little contribution, not to the Chancellor of the Exchequer or to the Prime Minister, but to Mr. Stanley Baldwin, with the hope that it might be used for the purpose noted.

TUNNEL

The light of day goes a long way into the tunnel—Not sunlight itself, but water-light. Light from the sun's golden wine: It pours through the neck, and we jerk along the tunnel.

Straining with us the last grey vertical line. But in vain, for the eyeballs press against black panes. And globe-feather popples that cannot grow in the light.

Eye-fuls of weighing dark softness. Then one of the petals is torn, and in faster succession From grey to grey brick-line brightening the strokes steal back. Till unbroken brook-light, and out between fields flooded Flower-deep in the sun's wine.

GOLD MINING IN B.C.

Sir—An editorial in The Vancouver Daily Province recalls the incident of "placer" gold in British Columbia in regard to its early inception remarks. "The Fraser's yellow sands were the pot of gold at the Western end of the rainbow which the Fathers of Confederation saw stretching from sea to sea, and it was the certainty of gold in the pot that gave the Fathers confidence to reach out for the Pacific province which was to give their Dominion completeness." The prominence attached to a foremost natural resource, from which the very interesting, and recent authentic figures of productive output are quite a revelation.

While admitting the veracity of the statements contained in the bulletin of the British Columbia Department of Mines, it is not-unfortunately and disappointment has been and is still associated with the industry? When the gold fever took British Columbia in '58, it may be remembered that the gold fields of Hudson Bay station Victoria have recently risen in that year, to the importance of a city of 17,000 inhabitants. From which high estate had fallen again with such rapidity that in 1861 there were only 5,000 left in her to mourn the golden days of the "miner's humbug." The pilgrim miners returned from the Eldorado cheated of their rewards by the late floods which kept the diggers from the surface, and were halted by the early snows which lay long in the high places of the Province.

A somewhat significant feature of placer mining today is that the promotion of its enterprise in the Province is sometimes questionable and unfair. The irretrievable consequences of such concerns and of their properties are such that their executives have exploited the public rather than the properties themselves, as possessing rich values. There are numbers of people in Vancouver today deprived of hard-earned savings who have little or no hope of recovering their money unless the province's resources are factually developed (a very improbable thing) on which funds have been extravagantly expended by unscrupulous promoters. My personal observation was recently drawn to a mining concern whose operations brought investments of $250,000. When investigations were made last March, it was found to be absolutely depleted of funds, and after one of the owners of the property, a man of high standing, had been deceived while on bail, the second was discharged with a small fine of $25.

With the peculiar attractiveness of the province's resources, the revival of placer-mining, if it is to be a way as to ensure the proper direction of funds invested, the unsatisfactory conditions which stain the page of mining will recur. It is naturally understood that cases of embezzlement occur in most businesses, but, however, should be kept out of the public eye. The fact that the province's resources are being promoted is a fact, and it is a fact that the province's resources are being promoted. The fact that the province's resources are being promoted is a fact, and it is a fact that the province's resources are being promoted.

CIVIC BEAUTIFICATION
Sir—The report of the beautification subcommittee contains so much detail that the outside public can get a very good idea of the work of the committee. As I understand it, the main thread of the proposals for the waterfront, the basic idea to which all the other suggestions are subsidiary, is the provision of a broad walk along the sea front—a "Marine Parade" from St. Charles Street on the east to the end of the Breakwater and the Outer Wharf street car line on the west. This "Parade" will include in its total length of more than three miles the "formal" type of paved and parapeted sea-level walk round Ross Bay, a "natural" type of unfenced path across the open cliff tops of Beacon Hill and Clover Point, the tree-lined "boulevard" type down Dallas Road from the Park to the Breakwater, and yet a fourth type in the Breakwater itself. It will have the charm of variety.

What is really more important still, as this parade will be entirely on the seaward side of the motor roadway, it will be a place where old and young can walk without fear of motor cars, where perambulators and invalid chairs can be wheeled, and where street crossings, steps or steep gradients, and where all alike, young and old, weak and strong, can enjoy the beauty that is there today and there in abundance. There may be, there certainly are, many things that may be done to improve the natural beauty that is already there, but the first thing, the earliest thing and the most necessary, is to make it possible for us to see and enjoy the existing beauties of coast-line, sea, and snow-clad mountains free from fear of motor cars, free from the need of watching where we put our feet and, if we have to push a perambulator or wheel-chair, free from the need for severe exertion.

And almost all that is needed to create this promenade, that will rival any similar walk in any seaside resort in the world, is to grade and surface a broad path across the cliff-top from the corner of Dallas Road and Douglas Street, down across Clover Point to meet the Ross Bay sea wall at its western extremity near the foot of Moss Street. The sea level is a work pre-eminently suitable to be included among unemployment relief works.

P. R. LEIGHTON,
521 Port Street, Victoria, B.C., September 30, 1931.

POLITICAL APOSTASY
Sir—Surely the large majority of the Conservatives of Victoria will not take the vicious trades of the speakers at the meeting on Monday last seriously. The truth of the matter is that some of these men jumped the country in 1928 on Dr. Tolmie's behalf, and were looking for big rewards. Dr. Tolmie did not see his way in the public interest, to submit to their demands; they then turned and vilified him with unsupported statements and half-truths, which are worse than lies.

Some of these men vilified Mr. Bower in 1924—today they vilify Dr. Tolmie and say that Mr. Bower is their only hope. What reward do they expect of Mr. Bower if he gets in? Moreover, it is open to very serious question if these men have Mr. Bower's authority to use his name. Why not come out in the open, as in 1924, instead of trying to knife the party in the back? Or are they playing Pattullo's game? Mr. Woodworth ran in Burrard as an Independent in the Federal election and received less than 300 votes, so I do not think he is in a position to speak for the Conservative party.

The Rhyming Optimist

By Allie McPhaels

UNBELIEF
The torrid day drops shifting veils of heat
Before the gaze, the languid breezes die;
Above a bank of clover, white and sweet,
Bees, brooms and golden, bent on pillage, fly.

How can we picture hours scintillating
With sun upon a world awashed all in white,
Where clear-cut shadows early eastward slant,
And the wind sharpens with approaching night?

Yet that such change will come no mind denies;
What of the soul, then, that, the weary traveler
Destined to pass beneath unguessed, far skies
Whose meaning none decipher or infer?

How do we dare refuse it any phase
In all of being's known or unknown ways?

Prices You Can Afford to Pay

Dentistry.

TWENTY months ago we adjusted our prices to meet present conditions, so that no one need feel that dentistry is something to be put off "until times are better." We offer you the same high standard of workmanship and quality which has brought 10,000 people here for dental attention during the past six and one-half years... but prices are lower than they have ever been in the past.

PAY TRIBUTE TO FRANK D. LITTLE

Many Citizens Attend Funeral of Pioneer Resident Long Identified With Coal Industry

The funeral of Frank D. Little, yesterday afternoon, was attended by a large number of citizens, who had played their part in the industrial development of Vancouver Island. As superintendent of the Wellington Collieries, during the most active years of that corporation, Mr. Little had a great deal to do in his association with the members of the Dunsmuir family in the building up of a most important industrial enterprise.

The ranks of those who were connected with this development of one of Vancouver Island's most important enterprises are becoming lessened from year to year. There was, however, present at the obsequies yesterday, a number who paid their last respects to one with whom they had had pleasant associations in earlier days.

The services of the Church of England, at the home on Rockland Avenue, and at the graveside were conducted by Very Rev. C. S. Quainton, Dean of Columbia.

The pallbearers were men who had relations with Mr. Little in the colliery enterprises on Vancouver Island. They were Robert Bryden, H. P. Collis, Robin Dunsmuir, John Graham-Graham, Maurice Hills and Dr. H. J. Wasson. In addition there were two intimate friends of Mr. Little, B. W. Jones and R. Ross Sutherland. The funeral arrangements were conducted by Haywards B.C. Funeral Chapel, Interment was made in Ross Bay Cemetery.

Canadian Cannery (Western Ltd.) Is Formed

Manufacturers of Aylmer's Soups Acquire Eight B.C. Factories

The Dominion Cannery, B.C. Ltd., known throughout the country as manufacturers of Aylmer's soups and canned foods, have now extended their operations to include eight canning factories in British Columbia, and, together with reorganization, have changed their name to that of "Canadian Cannery (Western) Limited." This change was considered necessary after the company had taken over the "Farmers' Canning Company, Limited, Mission City, the Ashcroft Cannery Ltd., and the Central Cannery, Kelowna. With the purchase of these concerns the Canadian Cannery (Western) Ltd. will now have factories established in all the principal farming districts of the Province. Tomato products will be put up in Kelowna, Oliver, Kelowna and Ashcroft; fruits and jams, etc., in Penticton and Vancouver; while fruits, vegetables and soups will be put up in Vancouver and Kelowna.

With the acquisition of these new plants, combining with the old system, the company now is in a position to supply the trade with the highest quality of B.C. grown products from strategic points. Officials state that they will be now able to improve even upon the fine standard of service and quality which has ever been their aim to maintain in the past.

GAIN IS SHOWN IN NEW HOMES

Oak Bay Building Figures for Past Nine Months Show Increase of $11,000

The municipality of Oak Bay, with building permits for the month of September amounting to $26,425, falls a little behind the value of permits for the same month last year, when there was a total of $38,907.

The first nine months of 1931, however, is considerably ahead of what it was for the same period of last year.

For the nine months ending yesterday there were building permits issued to the amount of $515,702. Of these permits ninety-two houses were included. Last year for the corresponding nine months the permits totaled $504,414. In this connection, however, there was in last

Gas Explosion Uncovers Still And Kills One

Portland, Sept. 30 (AP).—Mrs. Amy Mossa, fifty, died in a hospital here today from burns and injuries received last night in a terrific gas explosion which wrecked a residence and exposed a large liquor still in the rear of the house.

Mrs. George Hanson, forty-five, was critically burned, and an unidentified man was said to have been slightly injured in the explosion.

The three left the house in an automobile before police arrived. Hospital attendants said the man brought the two women to them for care and then left.

VISCOUNT BYNG SAYS FAREWELL

Leaves Scotland Yard After Three Years as Chief Commissioner

LONDON, Sept. 30 (CP).—"I am, as you know, sorry to leave," said Viscount Byng of Vimy as he left Scotland Yard for the last time today. His retirement as chief commissioner of the Metropolitan Police and head of Scotland Yard ended a three-year term in which he effected a wide reorganization of the great force, undertaken only two years after the end of his term as Governor-General of Canada.

"Age and health are the sole reasons which compel me to go," Lord Byng added. "I am responsible for neither of them. The police force, I can say truthfully, is the finest force in the world. It is keeping pace as no other with modern scientific developments in regard to wireless and every other form of advancement that can help it in counteracting the activities of the criminal.

"I leave the force with great feelings of affection," Lord Byng had arrived at the Yard shortly after 10:30 a.m. to bid farewell to his chief officers. It was obvious he felt the parting keenly. He thanked them all for the help they had given in enabling him to carry out the task he was asked to perform when the then Home Secretary, Sir William Joynson-Hicks (now Lord Brentford), sounded his "stern call to duty."

A crowd of the general public waited outside New Scotland Yard for a considerable time to see the departure of Lord Byng, who will now seek the rest and retirement at his country home at Thorpe-le-Soken, Essex, which was interrupted by his call to London in 1928.

B.C. LAMB WEEK NETS RESULTS

Value of Stimulus to Trade Was $35,000 and Effects Are Continuing

Practical results of "B.C. Lamb Week" were being weighed yesterday by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, which co-operated in the movement. It was estimated officially that the week had netted a turnover of $35,000 in British Columbia lamb, and that the stimulus created by the drive would be carried forward well into the succeeding weeks. The drive was voted a success, and will be perpetuated annually under Federal and provincial auspices, it was stated.

While lowered prices and slackened general purchasing have had their bearing on the British Columbia production of mutton and lamb this year, 1931 was the first period in which the British Columbia producer found its way to home markets continuously up to the present, thus averting a six-weeks' gap, when in other years imported lamb took away trade worth $50,000.

IMPORTS ANALYZED
Other facts of interest in the sheep industry show a reduction in imports of sheep and sheep products, excluding wool, of $20,221 in value, when comparing imports from foreign and other sources in the years 1920 and 1930. Imports of mutton and lamb from other provinces last year were $106,608, not counting live sheep imported to the value of $550,618. From foreign countries came $19,385 worth of mutton and lamb, and $1,919 in live sheep; these imports totaling $747,430.

While this is a reduction from $933,641, the value of similar imports in 1920, it also serves to indicate the large extent of the home market that is being taken up by imports which could, to some extent, be well replaced within the province, it is contended.

WOOL PRODUCTION
In the same ten-year period, British Columbia increased the number of sheep owned within the province from 46,743 head to 193,650. This year there are 220,000 breeding ewes in British Columbia flocks, it is reported. Wool production in 1920 was 253,306 lbs., compared to 1,108,999 lbs. last year. Lowered prices, however, have temporarily discounted the benefit of this increase.

Foreign imports fell from 4,503-127 lbs. of mutton and lamb in 1920, to approximately 500,000 lbs. in 1930. A large crowd gave an enthusiastic welcome in South Paddington tonight to Beaverbrook and his lieutenant, Vice-Admiral E. A. Taylor, elected to the House of Commons on the Empire Free Trade platform.

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS
The present time, officials of the department indicated, was a period in which many farmers are adding to their flocks by the purchase of sheep at buyers' prices. Others, it admitted, have been hit by buying at relatively higher prices, and the subsequent downward trend. Despite this, British Columbia breeders are said to be facing the year with confidence and see much brighter prospects ahead.

Assure Safe, Correct Washing of All Your Precious Things

THOUGHTFUL care protects your washing from the minute you hand it to your laundry routeman until he returns it—spotlessly, hygienically clean. This care starts with the important task of sorting or classifying each piece according to fabric, color fastness, and other washing qualities.

White goods and colored—linen and ginghams and silks—rompers and lingerie—such is the variety found in the average washday bundle. We know how each material, each color, can best be handled. Colors suspected of not being fast get special treatment. Silks, woolsens and rayons are divided into several groups. Light and dark colors are kept apart. Thus the skilled hands of the classifier weave their way through your washing, making sure that everything is started right.

And in each laundering step the same thoughtful care continues.

Fashion Parade at Empress Attracts Hosts of Admirers

Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I.O.D.E., Stages Attractive Show With Cabaret in Evening—Local Firms Show New Modes

Dame Fashion made her season's debut in a particularly attractive manner yesterday afternoon, at the Empress Hotel, when the Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I.O.D.E., held one of the most charming displays ever shown in Victoria. The ballroom and the entire suite were thronged with onlookers, as from the raised dais at the east end of the ballroom beautiful mannequins stepped forth, attire in all the latest fashions of the season. The models, dressed in the latest fashions of the season, were shown by the firm of Scurrah's, Limited, the shoes from William Cathcart Company, Limited; the men's apparel and many of the sports togs from George Strath's, and the costume jewelry from Wilkerson's.

Miss Ella Pottinger acted as an announcer, giving a brief description of each model as the mannequin appeared, drawing attention to the characteristic of each particular gown, and to the details of the cut, color and materials.

SPORTS WEAR

The show opened with Miss Rose Johnston, wearing a smart riding habit, a Tuxedo model of brown suede, the breeches of Bedford cord with buckskin strappings, and a vest of natural chambray. Miss Johnston was followed by a well-cut Cudwell model brown herringbone tweed, vest of natural chambray and fawn corded breeches with brown strappings. Both wore brown riding boots. Next appeared Miss Norah Wilson, in a Dahomey brown two-piece knitted sports outfit in a honeycomb weave, the blouse trimmed with red and white jersey, the coat also trimmed with red and white jersey to match the blouse. Her shoes were smart crocodile skin and a string of brown and white beads gave a particularly becoming effect to the ensemble.

Miss Helen Wilson appeared in a smart little tropic green worsted suit with a top of rich-rack jersey in tones of green and yellow and green shoes. Mrs. J. H. McCoughlin was outstanding in the sports section in a two-piece Veronese red sports suit with suede hat, gauntlets, gloves and purse to match. This was one of the most attractive models from Strath's.

NEWEST GOLF SUITS

Miss Margot Homer Dixon showed a tailored navy blue suede suit, over which she wore a double-breasted camelhair navy blue coat, trimmed with pearl buttons. Mr. C. Van Storch and Mr. Lums appeared in the season's newest golf suits, showing that "mere man" is following a distinct fashion this season, and their suits of French blue camelhair, with a fawn sweater and hose of Indian camelhair, and Moorland green, respectively, were much admired.

Miss Kathleen Wilson showed a fine ribbed knitted suit with a smart little lacey white wool blouse, and was followed by Mrs. Frank Houghton in a Mehara brown knitted ensemble with a sand top and smart little beret to tone. Her shoes were laced sports models in brown calf. Mrs. McCoughlin's green leather suit was worn with black and white shoes, and was another of the most attractive and these leather suits, which will doubtless prove very popular this season.

SMART TWEEDS

Miss Louise Hayward, accompanied by Mr. Van Storch, made her first appearance in a Fall suit of brown tweed with a white fleck trim with a large collar of natural sable, and the new Guardsman blouse of the shade of Miss Dixon's suit, with a long, narrow, trimmed with a large collar of Rose Marie shade sable. Her black suede shoes were trimmed with cut steel buckles. C. Henderson, Miss G. MacGachan, Mrs. W. Pemberton, Miss G. Robertson, Mrs. M. Bell-Irving, Mrs. Hood, Mrs. L. A. Genge, Mrs. P. Lampman, Mrs. L. A. Genge, Mrs. Scott, Miss Scott, Mrs. G. Graves, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. G. Paterson, Mrs. J. A. Pearce, Mrs. Jack Gray, Mrs. Heisterman, Mrs. M. G. Goddard, Mrs. H. H. Goddard, Mrs. G. Goddard, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. H. Lawson, Mrs. C. Wilson, Mrs. S. Barker, Mrs. Cathcart, Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Cantrill, Mrs. Cowan, Mrs. Cleo, Mrs. R. Englede, Mrs. H. J. Fisher, Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Grayburn, Mrs. Gillies, Mrs. R. H. Green, Mrs. G. H. Hanson, Mrs. H. H. Heisterman, Mrs. A. Kohl, Mrs. Macallen, Mrs. W. B. Montelth, Mrs. McMullin, Mrs. R. Mayhew, Mrs. E. Semmes, Mrs. Gordon Smith, Miss Sharp, Miss Shields, Mrs. Tison, Mrs. Dawson Turner, Mrs. A. Woodcroft, Mrs. H. G. Wilkerson, Mrs. Wasmann, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. A. Willis.

Over a formal afternoon gown showing the very slim silhouette with long bell sleeves of lace, Mrs. McCoughlin wore a super broadtail coat, trimmed with Siberian squirrel. A unique trimming was introduced in the tail-head embroidery of a frock of black flat crepe, worn by Miss Johnston. Miss Norah Wilson showed a smart little black crepe dress by Rosemond, of Paris.

Galayak, broadtail and muskrat were among the furs featured for the dress coats, and Miss Dixon showed a particularly beautiful coat of Hunan seal, with rich collar and cuffs of kolinsky. Persian lamb was the fur of Mrs. Hagar's coat, and Miss Kathleen Wilson appeared in a black super broadtail model with a stunning silver fox collar. Small, close-fitting hats were invariably worn with the high-collared coats, and brims seem to have gone entirely.

EVENING GOWNS

Perhaps the most interesting of the models, certainly the most effective, were the evening gowns worn by the mannequins. Miss Helen Wilson appeared in a charming blue figured taffeta, with a huge bow at the side back, while Miss Norah Wilson appeared in a slim, clinging gown of black satin, the skirt made with godets. Two of the loveliest models were Miss Dixon's velvet of a rich blue and rose shade, and a beautiful white chiffon with exquisite diamante trimming, over which she wore a white fur coat. Mrs. McCoughlin wore a gown of velvet with a jeweled red chiffon velvet, with a beautiful wrap to match, was one of the most original and noteworthy models. The charm of shell pink for the young girl was shown by Miss Johnston and Miss Kathleen Wilson, the latter in a puff-sleeved frock of sheer shell pink lace, trimmed with a soft bow of delicate orchid shade. Miss Helen Wilson wore a satin gown of green transparent velvet, which had a little coat to match. Mrs. McCoughlin showed an ultra-smart transparent velvet gown with black trim, the self material, and Miss Hayward wore a magnificent white satin model, worn with a black wrap of transparent velvet.

MEN'S SUITS

Mr. Lund wore a smart lounge suit of brown tweed in herringbone weave. Irish poplin tie. Guards' model overcoat, with half belt and an inverted pleat at the half-turned brim. Fawn spats, brown calf shoes and chambray hand-sewn gloves. Mr. Whitehead wore a Hyde Ritz model of blue pure wool serge with rope shoulders. His tie was a pure silk four-in-hand by Welsh Margateon, and his overcoat of grey tweed with the popular half-belt. His grey felt hat featured the snap brim. Mr. Van Storch wore a well-cut stripe, tie and handkerchief to match, a brown herringbone overcoat in the English Raglan style, and brown calf Oxfords.

Throughout the afternoon the orchestra played popular selections as the mannequins walked down the ballroom, circled among the tables at which the guests were seated and back to the stage. During an interval, Mrs. D. B. McCoughlin sang "The Song of the Soul," which was greatly appreciated by her hearers.

CHURCH FOLLOWERS
ENJOY FESTIVITIES

Metropolitan Church was en fête last night when the pastor, Rev. E. F. Church and Mrs. Church, and the assistant pastor, Rev. J. H. A. Warr, and Mrs. Warr were at home to the officers of the church and Sunday school. The scene of the festivities was the Sunday school room, set out with lamps and rugs in a very homelike ensemble and replete with flowers and lights.

Mrs. Church and Mrs. Warr received 156 guests and entertained them with games and contests. The second part of the entertainment took the unique form of a drama with the pastors as players, in which they set forth the plans and purposes of their pastorate. This was followed by community singing, led by Rev. J. H. A. Warr and a short musical programme, consisting of a pianoforte solo, "The Nightingale," by Miss Dorothy Morton, and songs, by Mrs. S. M. Morton and the assistant pastor. Mr. Warr's songs, "The Bells of the Sea" and "The Open Road" were received with enthusiasm.

The prizes were then distributed to the winners of the contest. Miss M. Wright, winner of the first contest received a beautiful autograph book. Mr. A. Lee and Miss Mary Percy, winners of the second contest, received "The Great Sea Mystery" and "Old Mortality." The third contest winners were as follows: Mrs. L. Reid, Miss N. Hudson, Miss D. Parsons, Mrs. S. M. Morton, Mrs. W. H. Whiteley, Mr. T. S. Petherly, Mr. W. E. Harper, Mr. H. T. Knott, Miss Agnes Dennstedt, Miss Muriel Dennstedt, and Miss Jones. The evening was brought to a close with refreshments served by the Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. G. Ferrabee Again President

SAINT JOHN, Sept. 30 (CP).—Mrs. Gilbert Ferrabee, of Montreal, was unanimously re-elected president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Missionary Society of the Church of England, in Canada, and for only three of the officers will be balloting take place. The nomination committee report was received today's session of the forty-fourth annual convention.

Those elected unanimously, besides the president, are: Vice-presidents, Central Canada, Mrs. Chamberlain, Edmonton; Western Canada, Miss Wright, Vancouver; corresponding secretary, Miss Slater, Hamilton; recording secretary, Mrs. Wedgwood, Ottawa; treasurer, Mrs. D. B. Donaldson, Toronto; girls' secretary, Mrs. Beagley, Montreal, and boys' secretary, Mrs. E. R. Roy, Lewis.

Reports showed the membership for 1930 was $9,174, and the total funds of that year $283,438.60, of which about $170,000 was received from the diocesan branches. The finances of 1930 were about the same as those of 1929, and the showing for the first six months of 1931 was considered very good.

Kiwianians Hosts At Nanaimo Club

NANAIMO, Sept. 30.—Nanaimo Kiwianians excelled as hosts at their ladies' night, held at the Golf and Country Club last evening. There was a full turnout of members and invited guests, which comfortably filled the hall. Under the direction of Mr. Arthur Whittingham, who made a lively and capable master of ceremonies, a lengthy programme was interspersed with community songs.

The Cedar Concert Choir gave a splendid contribution, their members furnishing comic recitations and skits, including a costumed number, "The King's Horses," introducing merry singers mounted on realistic-looking steeds. Mrs. C. D. Roberts, English gold medalist, and the evening's soloist, was heard to great advantage several times, choosing for her numbers, by request, old-time selections, "Callie Herring," "Just a-Wearying for You," and "Down the Avenue." Rousing applause was expressive of appreciation for her efforts. Rev. B. Eytton Spurling opened the choir's programme with a humorous recitation, "The Old Kent Road." Mr. Eytton gave a realistic interpretation of "Cohen on the Telephone."

Dancing was enjoyed, and vivid-colored caps given as favors, lent a festive air to the merry event.

A feature of the occasion was a presentation by the president, M. O. Corliss, who officially opened the entertainment of a large box of confection to Mrs. Newman, who ably accompanied the soloists. Mr. J. Seales, with fine expression, sang "Hail Caledonia," and "Fairies." Refreshments were served by an efficient committee. Mr. Nicholas Wright was convener of the successful programme.

Metochosin

Mr. John Pennington has left here for Vancouver, where he will take up a position.

The Metochosin and District Community Club held a rehearsal of the old time dances on Saturday night at Metochosin Hall. This was well attended and was a most enjoyable and successful evening. Supper was served by various members of the club.

Fashion Display on Saturday

Fashion shows, past and present, are the topic of conversation this week, and many reservations have been received for the display to be given on Saturday by the Junior Women's Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital, at the Empress Hotel at 2:45 p.m. and 8:30 p.m.

Miss Betty O'Brien is president of the auxiliary and Miss Gwendoline Dorman secretary. Those taking part as mannequins are Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, Mrs. Anthony Farrer, Mrs. H. Colman, Miss Dallas Homer Dixon, Miss Helen Campbell, Miss Mary Campbell, Miss Barbara Trigg and Miss Kathleen Bone.

A popular orchestra has been engaged for the afternoon performance, and following the evening presentation the guests may adjourn to the grill, where the auxiliary has arranged for special treats for the supper dance.

HOUSE WEDDING CELEBRATED HERE

A pretty home wedding was solemnized last night at 8 o'clock in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends, when Rev. John Robson officiated at the marriage of Mary Margaret, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Pettman, 550 David Street, and Mr. James Robert Logan Clemlinton, only son of Mr. T. J. Clemlinton, of Westwood, B.C.

Large baskets and bowls of yellow and white chrysanthemums were arranged throughout the house, and during the ceremony the bride and groom stood beneath an archway of ferns, from which was suspended a large white bell. At the beginning and conclusion of the impressive service the wedding marches were played by Mrs. M. MacGovern.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in her sleeveless wedding gown of white georgette fashioned in the new slim lines, with which she wore a veil of embroidered tulle confined to her head with a wreath of orange blossoms across her brow. This formed a slight train. She held a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and carnations.

ATTENDANTS
The two bridesmaids were Miss Lillian Pettman, sister of the bride, in pale green georgette, and Miss Marie Noble, in pale yellow. They wore picture hats of mohair to match their frocks, and held arm bouquets of chrysanthemums and gladioli. E. O. Ker-mode supported the groom.

A largely-attended reception followed the service, during which Mr. H. Owen sang several solos. The supper table was centred with the handsomely-decorated four-tier cake and flanked with two tall yellow tapers in silver holders.

Mr. and Mrs. Clemlinton left at midnight for Vancouver, and after a wedding tour on the Mainland they will make their home at Westwood, near Nelson. The bride travelled in a smart black frock of flat crepe with a bodice of green plaid and long tight black sleeves and hat en suite.

New Ways of Serving Popular Sardines

Here are some useful recipes for serving sardines. Packed together like the sardines themselves you are sure to find a new one.

DEVILED SARDINES

Drain one fifteen-ounce can of sardines (in tomato sauce), and dip them in crumbs, then in one slightly-beaten egg mixed with two table-spoons milk, salt and paprika. Fry to taste, then again in crumbs. Fry in deep fat. Serve with a little of the tomato sauce, heated, and a wedge of lemon.

SARDINE NEWBURG

Make a cream sauce of two table-spoons butter, three table-spoons flour, two cups of light cream, one tablespoon lemon juice, and salt and pepper to taste. Add slightly-beaten egg yolk. Add two chopped hard-boiled eggs and two four-ounce cans of boneless and skinless sardines broken in rather large pieces. Heat and serve on thin pieces of toast.

SARDINES PARMESAN

Spread oblong pieces of toast sparingly with onion butter (butter flavored with onion juice). Drain one eleven-ounce can of sardines (in mustard sauce), and split down the centre, removing backbone, but being careful not to break the sardines. Lay one split sardine on each piece of toast, and sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and paprika. Place under broiler frame until piping hot. Serve on small plates with a little of the hot mustard sauce on each. Serves six.

Five hundred dollars and two dollars costs, or four months in prison in default of payment, was the sentence meted out yesterday to A. W. Alexander, colored, who was charged in the Provincial Police Court with keeping liquor for sale contrary to law.

Several constables of the Provincial Police force were called to the witness stand to describe the raid on the Chantier Inn, which resulted in the arrest of Alexander and Grace Davis, colored, who was charged and found guilty of selling liquor.

A large barrel of beer and several bottles of assorted liquors were displayed in court as exhibits taken in the raid.

What Today Means

"LIBRA"

If October 1 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:10 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 5 p.m. to 6:40 p.m., and from 9:30 p.m. to midnight. The danger hours are from 2 p.m. to 4:15 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8:15 p.m.

Some unforeseen changes, not so much of immediate, as of ultimate, importance, are foretold by the planetary aspects of October 1. An element, too, of romance in personal relationships will be fostered, although family ties are under adverse rays. Health conditions should be carefully watched, and all physical strain should be avoided.

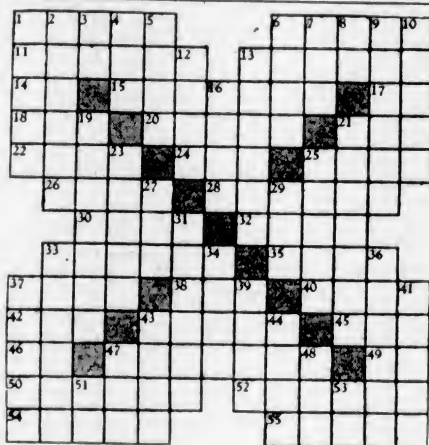

The child born on October 1 will be endowed with an inherent sense of justice, and any act founded, not on reason, but on superior force, will produce a jarring effect. It will be very acquisitive of information, have a retentive memory, and is destined to "make good."

Although born on October 1, and compelled to work for all you get, the sign denotes that, as a result of unflinching perseverance and unfailing common sense, you are bound to succeed. All work entrusted to you bears the imprint of concentrated energy and untiring persistency. You do not claim to know it all, and when up against it, never fail to seek assistance from those in a position to help you. Gratitude for advice given or service rendered is another of your outstanding characteristics, and, consequently, all are willing and ready to extend you a helping hand.

Difficulties do not dismay you. On the contrary, they apparently furnish an incentive to greater effort. Success, on the other hand, does not give you a swollen head, and when Fortune smiles, you modestly attribute it to good luck. This is not an affection, but a state of mind.

Without being secretive, you can keep your own counsel, and you often use speech to hide, rather than to express, your innermost thoughts. You are not thrifty, and are apt to err on the side of generosity. The stars predict that your home life will be happy during the early years, but that discord will later on disrupt it.

The Twins Are a Credit to Their Training

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

Of all the teachers you may test, You'll find experience is the best.

—Old Mother Nature.

Trust your nose rather than your eyes and ears, but use all three. Hide when you can and freeze to remain hidden, but jump and run when you must. Freeze if you are surprised, but are not sure you have been seen. These are the laws for long living taught the twins by their mother, Mrs. Forkhorn and Mute Deer. And the twins learned and remembered, which is quite as important as learning.

They had seen their mother freeze standing right out in the open just at dusk and had seen Farmer Brown's Boy mistake her for a stump and finally go on his way without knowing that he had been looking at a Deer. That was a lesson never to be forgotten. They had been told all about freezing, but now they had seen it done and how it worked. They had seen for themselves the value of it, but not yet had they had real cause to try anything of the kind for themselves.

They had their chance a few days later, however. Farmer Brown's Boy and Stumpy had started out at daylight for a long tramp in the mountains. They were walking quietly and were going up wind. That is, they were going in the direction from which the wind was blowing. So it was that Mrs. Forkhorn's big ears failed to catch a warning sound and her wonderful nose failed to get their scent, for the wind was taking it the other way. But her watchful eyes saw them the instant they appeared in sight. She and the twins were in a place and the twins were in a place and the twins were in a place.

There was a little thicket close at hand and into this the twins ran, crouching low at Mother's warning. They separated as they entered it and one lay down and froze in one place and the other did the same thing in another part of the thicket. Mrs. Forkhorn dashed away, bounding over bushes and seeking to draw the attention of these two strangers.

Now the thicket was of low bushes and Farmer Brown's Boy had marked where one of the twins had entered it. He ran forward eagerly. "I know just where one of them is," he cried,

It wasn't a log; it was the fawn

Stumpy grinned, but said nothing. Farmer Brown's Boy made his way slowly and carefully into the thicket to the place he was sure that fawn was hidden. Carefully he looked under the bushes on all sides, but no fawn could he see. "This is funny," said he. "Those fawns certainly didn't go out of the other side; at least the one I was watching didn't. He must be here."

Still Stumpy said nothing, but he quietly began to search for the other fawn. Back and forth Farmer Brown's Boy walked around the place where he had seen the fawn disappear. The minutes passed and still no sign of the little Deer. He was just about ready to give up and decide after all he had been mistaken and the little fellow had managed to get out of the thicket without being seen, when what he had first taken to be an old log partly under a bush caught his attention once more and he looked at it closely. It wasn't a log; it was the fawn. The little fellow was crouched close to the ground, his long neck and head stretched flat before him and his ears laid back. He didn't move although Farmer Brown's Boy was only a few feet from him. There was fear in his big, soft eyes, but he wasn't yet sure that he had been seen and so continued to freeze. Farmer Brown's Boy advanced two or three steps and still the little fellow lay as if he were in truth a log. But when Farmer Brown's Boy began to stoop over to try to put a hand on him he knew that he was discovered. Instantly he bounded to his feet as if thrown into the air by a spring and went sailing over the bushes to join his anxious mother. An instant later the other bounded after him, for Stumpy had found it. Then mother led them away, bounding high over bushes and fallen trees, and very proud of her twins she was. They

Fast Field Will Tee Off in British Columbia Open Golf Tourney Today

Mainland Pro Will Defend Provincial Crown at Uplands

Dave Black, Shaughnessy Heights Club, Arrives at Scene of Battle With Hopes of Retaining Title—Good Cards Returned in Practice Rounds—Lineham Has 68

Jimmy McLarnin to Face Starter

WALTER GRAVILIN

With their games sharpened to a fine point, a strong, but comparatively small, field will face the start of the British Columbia open golf championship at the Uplands Golf Club, thirty-six holes, today, at 10 a.m. Tomorrow the field will travel over the course twice more to settle the titleholder for the year. Dave Black, veteran professional from the Shaughnessy Heights Club, Vancouver, is on deck to defend his crown.

Yesterday's entry list was featured by the addition of Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, contender for the world's welterweight title. McLarnin arrived in the city in the morning with Ralph C. Rogers and immediately headed for the Uplands course to familiarize himself with the links. Although he did not make known his card, it was reported that he was swinging his clubs with the same skill and accuracy that he throws punches.

INVADE IN FORM
Headed by the Scot, Dave Black, present title, a formidable Mainland contingent arrived at the scene of battle yesterday and went out and tested the course. The cards turned in by the invaders were close to par, Dave Black and Dunc Sutherland, Point Grey, heading the list with 71.

Harry Widner and Don Sutherland, members of the salaried brigade from the University, and Vancouver Golf Clubs, respectively, found the course to their liking and reported eighteen-hole totals of 72. The remainder of the Vancouver players shot consistent golf and are expected to be heard from before the tourney ends.

Phil Taylor, Oak Bay, holder of the crown in 1929, teamed up with Dave Black in a friendly scratch against their sons, Alan and Ken, respectively. After a great struggle, during which the youngsters showed the way with some terrific tee shots, the professionals squeezed through to a 1-up victory. Phil Taylor uncorked a brilliant 33 on the incoming route for a 70.

Walter Gravlin, Uplands professional, served notice that he is hitting the ball well by stepping around the links in 73, while Bob Morrison, club and city champion, checked in with a 78. Both will have to be watched by the field, for they know the course like a book.

LINEHAM CARDS 68
The most remarkable pre-tournament performance was the round of amateur, Lineham, just missed by Morrison, when he holed a 10 on the last green for a 68, by far the best card of the day. Fredrick Clark, George Vale, who will be playing his first tournament since returning to Canadian soil, was hitting the ball well and came in with a score of 74.

British Champion Defeats Mary K. Browne, 5 and 3, After Below-Par Display—Marjorie Kerr Advances—Two Canadians Win

TORONTO, Sept. 30 (CP).—Completion of the second round of match play for the Canadian women's open championship left four United States contestants, two Canadians and two British women to battle it out for the title and the Duchess of Connaught Cup.

The defending champion, Marjorie Kerr, of White Beach, N.J., scored an easy triumph over Mrs. Harley G. Higbie, of Detroit, 6 and 5. One of the strong Canadian hopes was eliminated when Ada Mackenzie, of Toronto, went out at the hands of Virginia Van Wie, of Chicago, on the nineteenth hole.

Marion Hollings, of Santa Cruz, Cal., defeated Mrs. E. W. Whittington, of Toronto, 3 and 2, in a comparatively high-scoring match.

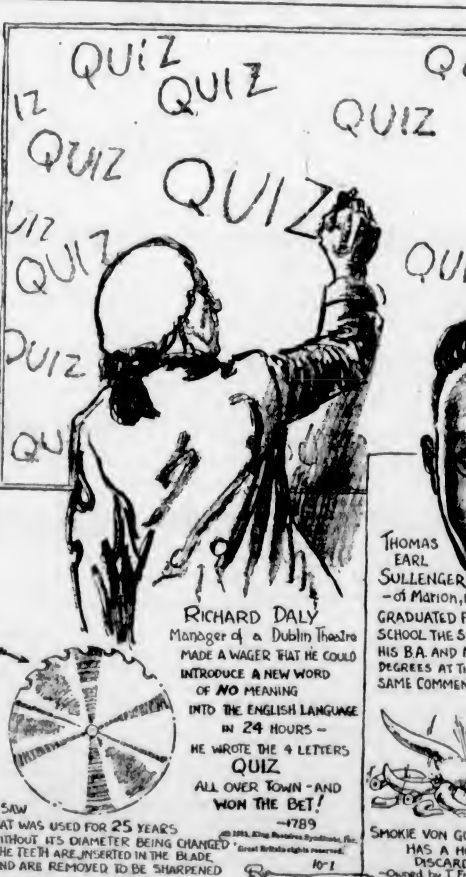

Both the British entrants disposed of their United States opponents without serious difficulty. Enid Wilson, British open champion, disposed of Mary K. Browne, of Cleveland, 5 and 3, and Bernice Wall, of Oshkosh, Wis., was eliminated by Marjorie Kerr, of England, 3 and 2.

ATHLETICS 8 TO 5 FAVORITES TO WIN FROM CARDS AGAIN

Capacity Crowd of 40,000 Expected to Watch Teams in Action at St. Louis—Connie Mack's Squad Out to Register New Record for Consecutive Pennant Victories

Grove and Derringer Picked by Experts as Starting Pitchers

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30 (AP).—The world series, baseball's big show and one of the most picturesque pageants of American sport, will be launched tomorrow with prospects of balmy weather, a capacity crowd and a dramatic pitching duel between Lefty Grove, ace of the world champion Athletics, and Paul Derringer, freshman star of the St. Louis Cards.

The world series annually commands a national interest second to nothing else in the country's sporting activity. This year is no exception, as the championship clubs of the American and National League come to grips in their struggle for diamond supremacy.

Sportman's Park has been sold out for the first two games, so far as reserved seats are concerned. A crowd of nearly 40,000 is expected to cheer Gabby Street's Cards as they begin a fight to stop the onrush of the Athletics.

Connie Mack, arriving this afternoon, maintained his usual reticence in discussing pitching prospects. There was no reason, however, to doubt he would again select the orthodox system of rotating Robert Moses Grove, great Livingston Earnshaw, right-handed hero of the 1926 battle. They won the series last year, and have another great year and are pinned to throw 'em past the Cardinal sluggers again.

The series schedule offers an opportunity for Mack to play his two games exclusively in the first four games in an attempted clean-up with two days of travel and rest between the second game and the third contest at Philadelphia next Monday. He has the veteran Walter Hoyt, the southpaw Rubie Walberg, and the young right-hander, Roy Mahaffey, for emergencies.

WILLIAMS AT SHORT
With Bob Williams, sensational youngster, slated for the shortstop berth he has clinched by his brilliant work this season, the Athletics will show the first change in the lineup that won the series in 1929 and 1930. Williams replaced the veteran Joe Boley, who has a bad leg. Otherwise the Mackmen are in good trim, including the erstwhile cripplies, Haas, Fox and Derringer.

The Cards, in planning their opening defense behind Derringer and possibly Southpaw Bill Hallahan in the second game, base much of their hope on the fact that the Athletics have seldom found Sportman's Park a happy hitting ground.

The world championship last two of their three series games here in October. They scored only three runs altogether in these contests, and is still hobbling. They will have a semi-casualty in centerfield, the youthful Pepper Martin, who has a slightly damaged leg. They will have a slightly damaged leg. They will have a slightly damaged leg.

CHANGES MADE IN GOLF CODE

Use of Clubs to Remove Loose Impediments to Be Allowed

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP).—A change in the rules of golf, as laid down by the United States Golf Association for tournament play, which would allow use of the club in removing any loose impediment on the putting green, was announced today by H. H. Ramsay, president of the U.S.G.A.

A similar change has been made in its rule by the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Ramsay said.

"Prior to this amendment," Ramsay said in explaining the new rule, "only certain objects could be scraped aside with the club and all other impediments had to be lifted. This was the cause of many disputes and called for many decisions."

The amendment is to Divisions 1 and 2 of Rule 28, which hereafter will read:

"1.—Any loose impediment may be removed from the putting green by hand or with the club, irrespective of the position of the player's ball. If the player's ball, when on the putting green, moves after any loose impediment lying within six inches of it has been touched by the player, his partner, or either of their caddies, the player shall be deemed to have caused it to move, and the penalty shall be one stroke."

"2.—In removing any loose impediment, the club must not be used with more than its own weight upon the ground, nor must anything be pressed down either with the club or in any other way."

VICTORIA GRIDMEN LOSE OPENING GAME

New Westminster Sets Back Locals By 13 to 5 Score

Islanders Outplay Royal City Gridmen Three Parts of Distance in "Big Four" Canadian Rugby Fixture—Costly Fumble in Last Quarter Gives Mainlanders Try

Jack Horne Scores Touchdown

VANCOUVER, Sept. 30 (CP).—New Westminster Dodekas went into the leadership of the Big Four Canadian Rugby League here tonight when they defeated Victoria, 13 to 5, at Athletic Park. It was the Dodekas' second straight win.

Outplaying their opponents in the last three quarters, Victoria were on the receiving end of two tough breaks, without which the score might easily have been reversed.

A forward pass by Victoria in the third quarter, intercepted by Dodekas and fumbled into the hands of an island player who galloped fifty yards for a touchdown, was ruled incomplete, and the ball brought back. In the last quarter, a Victoria fumble on a kick put the ball into the hands of a Dodekas man, who went across for a major score.

The Royal City boys had things pretty much their own way in the first quarter, bucking their way to Victoria's five-yard line. Doug McKinstry went over for a touchdown on the next play, which went unconverted. Dodekas added another point to make it 6-0 when Patterson hoisted a high punt to Gribble behind Victoria's line and the latter was roused before he could get away with it.

LOCALS HAVE EDGE
Victoria had it all their own way in the second, but failed to score. They went through Dodekas' line after time for big gains, only to be held a few yards from scoring. In the third quarter the Islanders got their first break.

Victoria tried a forward pass. New Westminster intercepted it but fumbled it into the hands of Jack Horne. Horne, lucking the ball under his arm, displayed some rare broken field running to go fifty yards for a touchdown. However, the whistle blew just as he caught the ball, and the play was ruled incomplete. It looked as if the whistle was blown too soon. However, the island squad came right back, and within a few minutes had marched the ball up the field to New Westminster's five-yard line. Jack Horne went over from there on a line plunge, to give Victoria their first and only score of the game. The Islanders tried a forward pass for a convert, but failed to garner the extra point. Then George Niblo lifted one to Victoria's deadline to make the score 7-5.

Victoria's second piece of bad luck came in the final quarter. Brian Hunning received a high punt twenty-five yards out. The ball slipped through his hands, and Hal Tingley scooped it up to go over for another five points for Dodekas, and the score was 12 to 5. A few minutes later Tingley kicked to the deadline for the last point of the game.

The line-ups follow:
Victoria—S. Smith, Cox, R. Engleson, McMaster, H. Engleson, C. Purser, Warnock, Bellis, Horne, Hunning, Usher, Lemm, Suba-Dowdell, Gribble, Hall, M. Patrick, Robson, D'Arcy, Pettigrew, L. Patrick, McMillen, De Blaquiere.

Doctor Dick's Letter Box

TIM MATSON

Dear Doctor,
I notice a controversy in a Victoria paper re the installation of automatic traffic signals.
A Mr. "A" states, "... we are a quiet Capital city, and there is no need for speed, etc.," and "this happy-go-lucky attitude is the envy of all visitors to Victoria."
In defence, a Mrs. "B" demands, "Where, in any other city, are people allowed to jay-walk?" and further asserts, "I know that visitors do not envy us our slow, quaint, old-fashioned ways, but laugh at us for being so much behind the times."
What do you advocate, Doctor—modern, automatic signals, or medieval vehicular and pedestrian nonchalance?
Yours, making a U turn in the middle of a block,
MRS. DASH ATTITUDE.

Dear Mrs. Attitude,
You impale me on the horns of a dilemma. Victoria has a "Traffic personality" that defies logic and the Laws of Gravity, so I doubt if the letters of "A" or "B," or the installation of signals are even worth discussing.
Come what may, Victoria pedestrians will continue their courageous but foolhardy diagonal dash into the thick of traffic and Victoria motorists will continue to play "naughts and crosses" at the busy intersections.
At least the installation of automatic signals will do no harm, and their bells and different colored lights will amuse the kiddies.
Wears up a lamp post.
DOCTOR DICK.

MACK DUMB ABOUT WHO WILL PITCH

A's Pilot Says He Hasn't Faintest Idea Who Will Start Today

VETERAN HOYT MAY GET CALL

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30 (AP).—Connie Mack's world champion Athletics rolled into town late today, eager to get at Gabby Street's St. Louis Cardinals tomorrow afternoon in the first game of the world series.

Down a narrow lane of what apparently was a small section of St. Louis unemployed, Lefty Grove led the procession, the inevitable black "seagull" tip tilted from his teeth.

"You're good, Lefty," someone in the crowd shouted. "But you're gonna get beat this time."

The long left-hander grinned. Behind him trailed Al Simmons, the reigning ace. Self-consciously the rest of the Athletics followed—round-faced pitcher, dark Bing Miller, blonde Max Bishop, chunky Jimmy Dykes, "Big Jarge" Earnshaw, dapper Mickey Cochran, limping Joe Mauer, "Mule" Hahn and the rest.

Bundled into flag-bedecked automobiles, they started immediately to their hotel. There was little excitement as the special train ambled into the station. Mayor Victor Miller was on the platform and had his picture taken with Connie Mack, the sixty-eight-year-old pilot of the champions.

During the day, as the train rolled through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, and into Missouri, the players sought various diversions to stave off the monotony of the trip.

MACKMEN CONFIDENT

Rarely was the subject of baseball mentioned. The Athletics believe wholeheartedly this series already is virtually won. They feel that they have to win this series to bring to Connie Mack the goal no other baseball leader ever has attained—three straight world championships. Connie himself made only a brief comment on the pitching situation tomorrow.

"I haven't the faintest idea," he muttered. "As far as I know now it might even be Lew Krause."

There was some feeling that Waite Hoyt, a cagey, cool, old-timer, might get the assignment tomorrow. But if the choice is left to the players, it will be Robert Moses Grove, the big left-hander.

Recalls DisasterStriking Submerged Ice, the Splendid Ferry Ship
Sank Fifteen Minutes Later With Considerable Loss of Life

With the departure of another expedition in search of the gold said to have gone down to the bottom of Lynn Canal in the safe of the Islander, when that crack ferry vessel sank in the Alaskan waterway after striking a submerged ice mass while steaming south from Skagway with a big passenger list made up mainly of returning argonauts from the Klondike goldfields, the circumstance recalls the catastrophe, which remains one of the most tragic episodes written in the marine records of the North Pacific.

In command of Captain Hamilton B. Foster, a capable and well-known mariner as well as a popular figure in connection with local yachting activities, and with Captain Leblanc as pilot, the Islander left Skagway on August 14, 1901, with approximately 107 passengers aboard, many of them being more or less successful miners returning to the "outside" for change of air and diet after several years' toil on the rich creeks flowing into the Yukon. The crew numbered sixtyone, and in addition to the passengers and crew listed there were thirteen who had not met with the favor of the goddess of luck, five of whom were working their passages south, and eight who were stowaways, while there were five young children who had not been listed, making 186 in all aboard the flagship of the old Canadian Pacific Navigation Company's fleet, steaming along that August night at a speed of 15 knots.

NIGHT WAS CLEAR

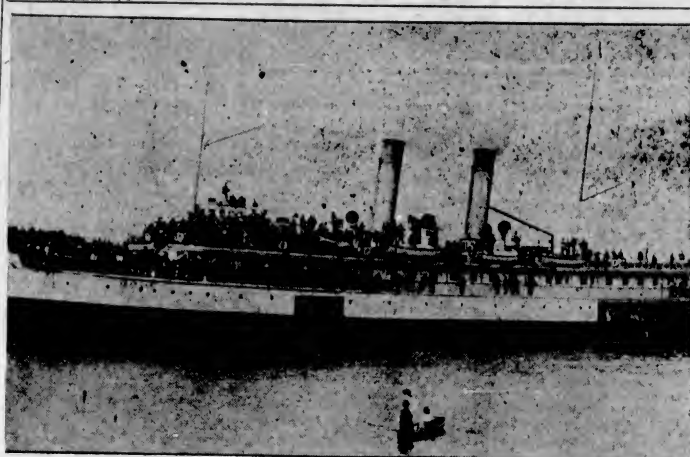

From the testimony presented at the investigations which followed the sinking of the Islander, it was revealed that August 15 was ideal for traveling, the morning being clear with atmospheric conditions splendid. The lookout saw no ice, and following the crash, which occurred off Douglas Island at 2:30 o'clock in the morning, there was considerable excitement displayed, and no one could definitely say just what had caused the disaster, although from the position in which the ship sank, floating ice was the only possibility.

The Islander floated for fifteen minutes only after the contact with the ice, and as the greater part of the passengers were trapped in their staterooms asleep, the majority of those perishing were goldseekers, the estimated number going down with the ship, including those of the crew who perished, totaled seventy-two.

When She Was Flagship of the Fleet

At one time the finest passenger vessel plying in North Pacific coastal waters, the Ss. Islander proved a popular ship with travelers going to and from the North following the finding of gold in the Canadian Yukon. She was lost on August 15, 1901, when she crashed into submerged ice while on the way south from Skagway with a number of Klondikers aboard. Several attempts have been made to reach the ship in search of the gold which it was supposed she carried with her when she went to the bottom.

prominent travelers including Dr. John Duncan, well-known physician; Mrs. Ross, wife of the Governor of the Yukon, her daughter and niece, and Mrs. Captain Nickerson. Andrew Keating, a wealthy resident of Koksilah, and his two sons, were Vancouver Island residents who perished, while J. M. Douglas, of Kelly, Douglas & Company, Vancouver, was the most prominent traveler from the mainland.

It was a general practice for miners boarding ships at Skagway, and who possessed "fat pockets," to place them in the custody of the purser, and Purser Harry Bishop, of the Islander, had considerable gold in his "strong box" at the time the ship struck, although it is quite possible not by any means all that was aboard the ship. There were, undoubtedly, cases where the miners preferred to sleep with their wealth under their pillows; but it is a fact that all the gold in the ship's safe was handed out to the owners before the vessel was abandoned, and that the safe when the ship went down contained only $1,000 in gold, which was the amount of express the ship was carrying, and which was covered by insurance.

PURCHASED DRAFTS
Stories to the effect that the treasure aboard the Islander on that voyage south amounted to millions cannot be substantiated, and are undoubtedly the result of tales related by excited passengers after they were landed. Mr. Douglas had some wealth, but it was represented in drafts, for he told a fellow passenger that, getting full value for the gold at Dawson, it was the logical thing to convert the gold there, which he had done.

According to several eye-witnesses, one man is supposed to have arrived on deck shortly after the alarm was sounded with a valise containing $50,000 in gold dust and nuggets, which he was afraid to drop into the boat alongside, fearful that it would go right through. It undoubtedly would have, so he jumped into the water with his satchel, figuring he would be caught as he struck the water and pulled into the boat. But the weight dragged him down immediately, as indeed it would, if in the first instance he could carry that much gold, even if he could get it into a valise, for at $17 an ounce, the average price of Klondike gold, it would weigh about 240 pounds.

DOING WELL IN
CHOSEN CAREERBasil Ford Obtained His Early Training With Local Sea Cadets

When the Boys' Naval Brigade was started here in 1918, among the young enthusiasts enrolling was Basil Ford, who recently passed his examination for a master mariner's certificate. It was in 1923, when he was fifteen years of age, that he became apprenticed to the Robert Dollar Company, with whom he served for four years aboard the Esther Dollar, the term of his apprenticeship, when he obtained his second mate's papers.

Leaving the Dollar Company, he next went with the Standard Transportation Company, of Hongkong, and after a year's service on the Tecumseh as third and second mate, returned to Canada and successfully passed for a mate's certificate. His next berth was aboard the Tachee, of the same company, and from her he was again appointed to the Tecumseh.

In the Fall of 1930 he joined the tanker Albertville, of the Imperial Oil Company's fleet, serving as third and second mate. He left her in June last, after having been successful in obtaining his master's certificate. The young skipper is the son of Mrs. K. Ford, of 234 Government Street, and a grandson of the late C. E. Redfern, a pioneer business man of Victoria and a mayor of the city for several terms.

MAKE NEW CONTRACT WITH LONGSHOREMEN

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP).—A strike of longshoremen at the Atlantic ports was averted today when representatives of the steamship companies and the International Longshoremen retained the basic wage of eighty-five cents an hour, but accepted cuts of ten cents an hour on overtime. The new contract calls for a forty-eight-hour week.

More than 60,000 longshoremen and checkers working in ports from Halifax to Hampton Roads, Va., are affected by the new agreement.

Plums, cherries, and the harder varieties of apples have been successfully grown on the Canadian prairies, but the orchards in all cases were protected by a suitable windbreak.

Weather Unfavorable at Sanushiro and Fairbanks—Delaware Aviators Contemplate Flight to Japan

Unfavorable weather yesterday held one pair of would-be trans-Pacific flyers to the ground in Japan, while another couple was preparing to leave Delaware for Seattle. Two others, whose attempts to span the North Pacific in one hop ended in failure, were still in Alaska.

Hugh Herndon, Jr., and Clyde Pangborn, at Sanushiro Beach, Japan, postponed their plans to take off for United States today because of the weather. They have announced a tentative former home of Pangborn, as a tentative destination.

Lieut. Harry Connor and J. S. McDowell are expected to leave Wilmington, Del., in a few days for Seattle and have announced they will attempt a Seattle-Tokio hop immediately following their arrival on Puget Sound. Connor participated in the flight of the plane Columbia from Harbor Grace, Nfld., to the Scilly Islands, off England, in 1930.

FINE ACTING IS FEATURE OF FILM

Sophisticated Comedy, "Rebound," at Capitol Today, Has Well Chosen Cast

"Rebound," RKO Pathé's picture version of the Donald Ogden Stewart play, which opens today at the Capitol Theatre, is a well-written and well-acted, sophisticated comedy remount of the Phillip Barry type of story.

It is not often that we have a chance of seeing a picture that has a uniform quality of excellence in every phase. Its usually happens that if the dialogue is good, the story is poor. Here we have a charming story with excellent dialogue throughout and actors who know how to talk.

Ina Claire, who plays the starring role, gives a performance that is well balanced and intelligent. She makes the most of the high spots of the picture without overacting in the slightest degree. She speaks her lines naturally. Just as she was on the stage, Miss Claire is a finished actress on the screen.

PLAYHOUSE G. Donald Gray's fine baritone voice is as fine as ever it was in his radio singing days. It is being heard in the Playhouse Theatre this week, where he is appearing in stock with his own company in that refreshing vehicle, "The Isle of Dreams." Mr. Gray sings four numbers in the play, "Mother Machine," "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "The Isle of Dreams" and "Ma-cubbin." He has proved popular in each number, and round after round of hearty applause have rewarded his efforts.

DOMINION Several days' vacation from work, allotted to Sylvia Sidney, were spent by the dark-haired actress right on the set, watching the filming of "An American Tragedy." When casting for "An American Tragedy," the Dominion Theatre attraction, got under way, she was immediately selected to play the part of Roberta Alden opposite Phillips Holmes as Clyde Grimshaw.

COLISEUM Not only is "Cracked Nuts," the picture now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, a riot of hilarious situations by Douglas MacLean and Al Boasberg, authors, and Ralph Spence, wise-cracking dialogue specialists, but never before have Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey been provided with a story of such lavish background.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS, JR. IS IN COLUMBIA FILM

"I Like Your Nerve," New First National picture now on the screen at the Columbia Theatre, is the second in which Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., has been starred, the fourth in which Loretta Young has teamed with him. Their previous screen romances were "Fast Life," "Forward Pass" and "Loose Ankles." "I Like Your Nerve" is a picture, is a story of breath-taking speed, showing Doug as a wealthy young American involved in a political intrigue in a Central American republic. He averts a revolution, saves the finance minister from ruin and incidentally wins the minister's daughter after a spectacular kidnapping on the eve of her marriage to another.

"TABU" IS ROMANTIC DRAMA OF SOUTH SEAS

F. W. Murnau, director of "Tabu," the romantic drama of the South Sea Islands which comes to the Coliseum Theatre on Saturday next, was twice chosen by Film Daily as one of the best ten directors in film-dom. He was the director of "Sunrise," one of the epics of the silent days. He made "Tabu" in collaboration with Robert J. Flaherty, who was the director of "Nanook of the North." They spent fourteen months in the South Seas, mostly on the island of Bora Bora, in the Society Archipelago, making "Tabu" with a native cast, members of which had never before seen a motion picture camera.

MUCH ANTICIPATION OVER ENGLISH STARS

Victorians are looking forward with pleasurable anticipation to the performance at the Shrine Auditorium on Monday, October 5, of Leslie Manners and Miss Jessica Dale-Lee, noted English Shakespearean artists. These clever actors have had a long association with Shakespearean drama. Mr. Manners claiming something of a record in having played nearly fifty parts in twenty of Shakespeare's plays, while Miss Dale-Lee's association started at the age of three, when she played

WILL PRESENT SCENES FROM FAMOUS OPERAS

Bianca Saroya and Dimitri Onofrei, leading soprano and tenor of the Philadelphia Grand Opera Company, will give a presentation of the most outstanding scenes from the operas of "Faust," "Manon" and "Carmen" in the Shrine auditorium on Saturday evening, October 3.

In "Carmen," for instance, they might make four heart tricks and then all that would be necessary to defeat the contract would be to East to find another trick somewhere. Against this possibility is the fact that West's hand is devoid of entries save in the heart suit itself. Things looked a little better for the defence when East put up the king and won the first trick. He returned the three of hearts. The declarer had played the nine on the first lead and on the return played the queen—a recognized false card by the declarer. This, to East, definitely placed five hearts in the West hand. If South held four hearts, including Q J 9 4, he would play the four to the first trick, as the false card of the nine would mean the sacrifice of a second stopper in the suit.

West now made the decisive defensive play. The deuce of hearts was still missing and to take the heart return and then clear the deuce in his hand, it is true, but they would be as unattainable as the moon as far as defeating the declarer's contract was concerned. To refuse to win the trick and conceivably mean that South would take all the remaining tricks and thus score an additional ten points in the honour column, but from West's standpoint, that was wholly immaterial. If East cannot win a trick before the declarer has scored nine, then game and rubber are gone and an extra trick is not at all vital when measured against the rewards of a defeated contract.

Refusal to win the second round of hearts gave to the defending players their only hope of success. Declarer saw his danger and attempted by the only means at his command to snatch the needed trick if his opponents were not alert. He could count four sure spade tricks, three club tricks and had already taken a heart. He needed but one diamond for game and rubber. He led the club three from his own hand, playing the king from the dummy and then led a small diamond from the dummy toward his own holding. East, however, was not to be deceived. He played the ace and returned a heart. Thus East and West secured four heart tricks and one diamond, defeating the contract one trick. Had West taken the second lead of hearts and cleared the suit, declarer would have made ten tricks instead of eight.

TODAY'S POINTER

Partnership morale in contract will always be maintained at a very high level if the following rule is obeyed to the letter: "Never reproach your partner for which you can reproach yourself." Most disasters could be avoided by a good player himself if he took care to foresee partner's possible mistakes.

When partner makes an error his mind is often too preoccupied to dwell carefully on the new hand dealt and a second and a third mistake of even a more serious nature is apt to follow unless some precautionary measures are taken at once. The best plan is to be liberally slow for a while and to cheer your partner up until he completely recovers. The same plan should be followed after a large penalty sting.

Reclamations, even though one is quite right, are like pouring water on flaming oil and serious mistakes almost inevitably follow.

ROTARIANS MAKE GOOD-WILL VISIT

Victoria Club Members and Rotarians Return Today From Gathering at Sequim, Wash.

A small delegation of members of the Victoria Rotary Club, headed by W. F. Pinfold, and their ladies, left the city yesterday morning for Port Angeles, to attend a joint good will gathering of the Port Angeles, Sequim, Port Townsend and Victoria Clubs. The local party is expected back this morning, after spending the night at the homes of the Sequim members.

On their arrival at Port Angeles, the Victorians were met by an American delegation, and following a delightful afternoon, spent in sight-seeing and golf, were entertained at a banquet in the evening in Sequim.

Mr. Pinfold, Victoria's representative to the recent international convention in Vienna, addressed the meeting on the international gathering, telling of the fellowship which existed there and the work accomplished. He also stated that meetings of this kind promoted excellent friendship between Rotary clubs of the world.

An address on good fellowship was given by Rev. M. W. J. Bruce, of the local delegation, who urged the promotion of these friendly gatherings, in order that the respective clubs might gain an insight into the work of their fellow organizations.
